All hail, dear Chester,
we sing of thy fame,
Remembering thy precepts
while praising thy name,
As time bears us onward

And we'll love Chester,

PREFACE

As you turn the pages of this '58 Cestrian, some of you may think the job of publishing a year book is routine with each senior class. Actually for those who shoulder this responsibility, the task is anything but routine. Each senior class takes a special pride in putting out as attractive an annual as possible. We of the class of 1958 have worked very hard and painstakingly to record faithfully and realistically the life of our high school this, our senior year. We know that as you scan these pages, you may possibly find errors, but we sincerely hope not. We also know that you will find much that will call to mind gayety, serious moments, sad ones, hard work, and the usual pauses in school routine for relaxation and fun. All these facts of our school life are on these pages, but there is much too, that we cannot record—those dreams, those ideals, those long long thoughts of youth that are a part of us all—things never expressed but never forgotten—memories that are woven in the warp and woof of our high school days. We hope this 1958 Cestrian will always keep those memories bright. If in later years when each of us has gone his separate way and Chester High School associations are but a part of all that is past—then if this book can serve as a realistic tangible link of recall between that past and tomorrow, it will have served its purpose well.

That is the hope of our staff—that the 1958 Cestrian may be a golden bridge between today and the future for all of us.

Sincerely,
Martha Woods, Editor
Johnny Huskins, Business Manager

DEDICATION

A moment's time of appreciation, a thousand words of gratitude could never express the high regards that we as seniors have for our high school principal, Mr. Marion G. Pratt, who always has time to listen to our troubles and to give us a helping hand. In the six short years that he has been with us, he has dedicated his time and energy to promote the feeling of togetherness among the students and faculty of Chester High. in later years, as we look back on our high school days, many things may seem very vague and in the distance, but our memories of this man will always be bright and clear.

Because of his continued support and faith in the young people of Chester, we, the graduating class of 1958, do dedicate our Cestrian with love and appreciation to Mr. Marion G. Pratt.

ADMINISTRATION

STUDENTS AND PATRONS, CHESTER HIGH SCHOOL...

Today as we survey our educational problems, we are most keenly aware of changing trends and crises in our school world. Daily we hear criticisms of our schools, our methods of education, our so-called frills, and crip-courses offered as electives. Teachers have been lambasted as self-seeking, inefficient people who really do not have quite enough to do. Many analyses have been made of this trend of critical comment directed against the public schools today. Much of it has been expressed by well meaning and interested citizens. Many of them have failed to get all the facts and the true conditions before they have formed their opinions. Some of the adverse criticism has been well deserved and should, in the final analysis, be very constructive. No form of public education is without flaws, and always there will be differences of opinion as to ultimate values and the long term results obtained from those values. You, as graduates of this high school, should know that out of the graduating class of 1955, forty-two percent went to college. Of this forty-two percent who went to college, ten per cent did not take college preparatory work and yet this forty-two per cent passed eighty-six per cent of the college courses taken. Of the class of 1956, thirty-eight per cent went to college. In this class of 1956 some students enrolled in college who had not taken college preparatory work and which Chester High School did not recommend. Again this class passed eighty-six per cent of college courses taken. The national average of high school graduates attending college is thirty-three per cent. I would remind you that there are those of you who will not go to college who have received benefit from your public schools and considering the effort many of you put forth, you are well prepared to become citizens of this community, state, and nation.

If any of you will take time to turn back the pages of history of public schools in this state, as well as in the United States, you will find that slowly, ponderously, and often times very ineptly our schools have grown to encompass the great American dream—that of a high school education for every American citizen. This ideal of mass education in our public schools has presented educators with infinite problems. Because of a lack of money, inadequate facilities, over crowded classrooms, and teacher shortages, our public schools have had to compromise very often. Naturally this results in conditions that bring criticism.

Mr. James Caldwell, Mr. Ben Wall, Mrs. Caroline M. Dawson, and Mr. Wilbur Runyan, our other four board members, relax for a moment during a meeting.

CHANGES IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS ARE OF SLOW GROWTH...

School officials, administrators, and teachers agree most whole heartedly that we need improvement in many fields. We are agreed on many points, some of which are: that the great majority of students should study more, that there are those who select the easiest road to graduation, that many of them engage in too many outside activities, that some students are perfectly satisfied just to pass. These conditions are prevalent in every high school today. The vital question is—What can we do about them?

Two groups are as vitally concerned with solving the difficulties as school officials and teachers. They are parents and students. These must work together whole heartedly with teachers if we are to improve the educational standards of our schools. In the matter of hard, earnest study and adequate preparation for class work, parents can play a vital role. Together with the teacher, they can inspire, encourage, and show the keen special interest needed to motivate higher qualities of work.

Public school changes are of slow growth. Only through gradual trial and error methods do we evolve new ideals and new standards in education. Our hope is that with today's many critical problems, we will be able to gradually approach our goal—that which is for the best interests of the individual student; that which will most help the individual to face his own future with responsibility, with courage, and with faith. Let us go forward working together—teachers, pupil, parents—to improve our schools, to strengthen the weak places, and to make our schools a vital, secure foundation for peach of earth and for our way of life.

Dr. W. J. Henry, member of the Chester County Board of Education presents to Chester City Chairman Emeritus W. A. Conkill a handsome bronze plaque for his fifty years service to our schools.

MR. MARION G. PRATT
PRINCIPAL

It is with a great deal of pleasure that we present to you our faculty. Even though we constantly hear in these modern progressive days that the students are of first importance always, we realize that a good faculty is the first essential for a good school. We students in Chester High feel that our faculty is second to none. Our teachers are specialized in their particular fields and do their best to teach thoroughly, interestingly and enthusiastically.

They are more than teachers to us. They are loyal friends and they are understanding. Many of the people whom you see on these pages have been with us for many years. They are invaluable assets to our community and our civic and religious organizations. They go more than the second mile with us. Now of course, there are times when we feel that faculty members are rather difficult "hard-boiled" problems—bent on having work done precisely and on time. And at times, too, we may not see "eye to eye" with them on all occasions. But given time to think things over the majority of us realize that these very stern qualities are requisites of our training. Who expects life to be the proverbial "bed of roses." Our faculty tries to teach us that things worth while come only through hard honest work. We are proud that our teachers are people of high ideals, and they truly try to live up to the principles they teach.

CLASS HISTORY

Can you imagine! Twelve years, gone so quickly! Just now this realization of how fast time passes is beginning to dawn on the seniors of Chester High School as they begin preparations for graduation, college, and future homes and families of their own. How precious these years are to us now. For during that period of time, our whole lives revolved around our school and its activities—class parties, exams, football games, and canteen dances. Will there ever be a time when they seem far distant and long ago? Maybe but now the memories are still fresh and real.

For instance, I can remember clearly that September morn back in 1946. It was the opening of the school term and all over Chester, children flocked to College Street, Foote Street, Dora Jones, Eureka and Gayle. In heaven knows how many other towns and states thousands of children were doing the same—some of whom were destined to become part of the Chester High School Senior Class of 1958. The majority of the children strode up the walks with assurance, looking haughtily down upon those "kids" timidly clutching their mother's hands as they were greeted by their first grade teachers. But it didn't take long for us to feel at home, and school became a natural part of our daily lives. How proud we were when we learned to read! What a thrill, when in the second grade, we were allowed to go read to the fifth grade classes—a most terrifying and wonderful experience.

Yes, and I remember the day we entered junior high school. Unrealized to us then, the years had flown past, and our childhood was gone. Actually the move from elementary school to junior high wasn't a big one, since junior high was in the College Street School. For those of us already attending there, it was just moving to another room; and for the ones from other schools, it was simply transferring to another grammar school. But we never thought of that. After all, we were the oldest and most respected students in College Street School. Of course being "big wheels" had its drawbacks. Friends were parted and placed in different sections. The "little" and "big" recesses we were accustomed to were done away with and we had a five minute break in the morning and only one recess—at lunch time. But this only added to our prestige. Then came the crowning glory—changing classes. It was really confusing, and for a while, our teachers were plagued with having students in their classes at wrong times.

Then came that wonderful day when we entered the high school building. No longer were we mere seventh-graders, tolerated, allowed to attend chapel and pep meetings, and once in a while getting our names in the school paper. Now we changed our classes by bells—and for every subject! New things, like studyhalls, standing in a lunch line, and only one recess, became part of our daily lives. High school was just one wonderful, confusing madhouse, and we loved it.

During our eighth grade year, we were able to sit in class and watch the new high school building going up across the street. Just then we were too proud of ourselves for attaining the prestige of the old building that we didn't think much about the day that we would graduate from that new structure. But in the May of that year we watched the last senior class ever to be graduated from that beloved old building.

By the time we reached the ninth grade, the realization was beginning to dawn upon us that school was not a torture inflicted by heartless parents and teachers, but a very necessary privilege for which we should be appreciative. Teachers became human beings (and good friends) and studying something that we did for knowledge rather than punishment. The class of 1958 was really growing up!

In 1955 we became the youngest class in the senior high school building. Junior high had been confusing, but senior high was something else! All those different halls—every room looked just alike — we were forever getting in the wrong room. But we liked senior high. There were no bothersome stairs, and since the building was so big, you could change classes without fear of being knocked down or stepped upon.

Thinking back, it seems as if every year gets better, and as I remember, it did. Being juniors really put us in the big time. It was thrilling to nominate candidates for the student council, and even more so to see our own classmates filling some of these offices. We began at the start of school to plan for our moment of triumph—junior-senior. We were determined to make it the "best yet" (as did every other class). We really had a big time participating in the show and attending the dance, and no amount of scolding from our parents for staying out late could mar our wonderful evening. Another red letter day in our junior year was the day our rings arrived. Were we proud! We walked on clouds for weeks, for at last the long-awaited senior year was in sight.

In June we shall become the fourth class to graduate from the new senior high building. We shall have behind us then, another junior-senior, a gay trip to our nation's capitol, and a wonderful and most precious collection of memories. In future years, it may be said that the class of '58 did nothing spectacular—maybe so. We weren't last to graduate from the old building or the first to graduate from the new one, but we will leave our mark. For our class has had its share of honors and achievements, and if nothing else we can be remembered as a class that had its part in building the ever growing traditions of Chester High School.

Getting out a yearbook requires more work than most of us realize. It also takes one hundred per cent cooperation from all staff members plus the large crew of seniors who sell ads. Even though the hours are many that we spend—more than we ever dreamed of—when we become staff members on this book, we gain valuable experience in many fields. Our duties are varied and at times very tedious. However, publishing a yearbook is really fun as well as hard work. We know you may find errors, even though we have done our best to avoid them. We hope you will overlook the mistakes and thoroughly enjoy this record of our 1958 school year.

We are struggling with our conversational French, and even though a native Frenchman might not quite understand what we mean, we are having fun trying to get the basic fundamentals of the French language.

The Myron E. Brockman Club of Future Teachers of Chester was organized in 1949 and has received a gold seal every year except one.

The members of the club come from the three grades in Senior High School and meet once a month during the activity period. Representatives, with one of our sponsors, attended the district meeting at Rock Hill High School and also the state convention. Our members do not regularly substitute, but when a teacher has to be absent from his class for a few periods, frequently a Future Teacher holds his class.

Each year, members of the club observe in one of the elementary schools and in this way see teachers of other grades in action. During "Vocation Week" a visiting teacher comes and presents the teaching profession to our members.

Latin and English really go hand in hand when we learn how many of our words are derived from this "old" language.

The Latin Club is open to any Latin student who wishes to become a member. The purpose of the club is to continue an interest in Latin outside the regular class work. Only a few meetings are held during the year and the programs include presentation of myths, heroes, and Roman customs. The chief activity is participation in the Latin Forum held at Winthrop College each year.

D. E. CLUB

WE LEARN THE ART OF SELLING

The D.E. Club of 1957 and '58 are using in its program of work this year a speaker from a business uptown. Each speaker gives us information concerning their business, other businesses, taxes, and our responsibility toward the business world. We are also beginning work with the Chamber of Commerce to raise our tourist trade. The D.E. Club is striving, in its program of work, to produce better business men and women.

The T & I, Trade and Industrial, Club is made up of students who take subjects pertaining to trade and industry. We have one meeting a month, on the third Thursday, and have guest speakers. During the fall the officers attend a leadership camp, Camp Acklea, to discuss the business of the coming year. We go to a fish camp and during the spring we attend the State Convention at Clemson.

WE HOPE TO BECOME SKILLED IN INDUSTRY

The Mixed Chorus is one of the most enjoyable and best loved activities of our high school. This group, composed of students from grades ten through twelve, under the direction for Mrs. Catherine T. Moore, adds much to the school program each year by singing in chapel, giving a special Christmas program, and a spring presentation which is the climax to the year's work.

The old saying, "Music makes the world go 'round," is certainly proved in Chester High's Mixed Chorus.

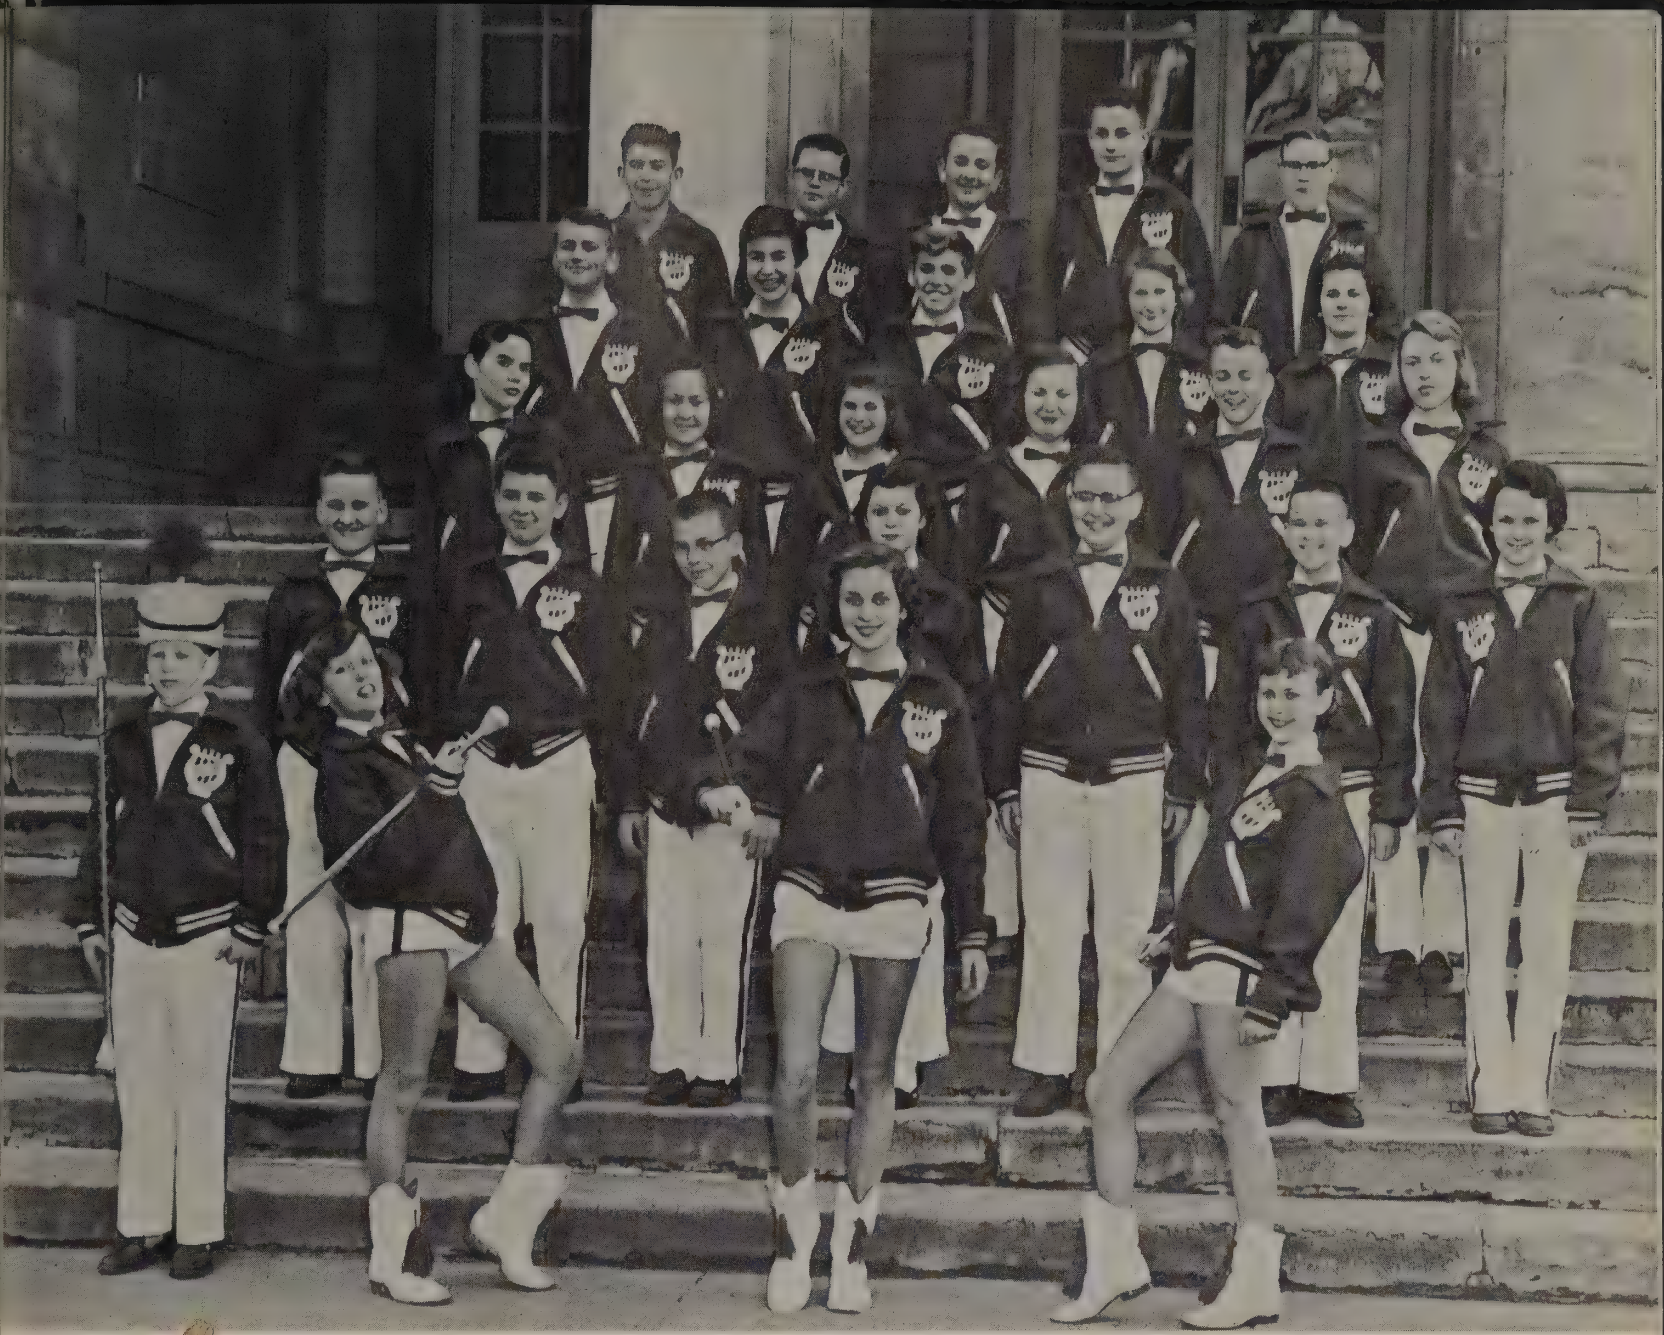
Mr. Tyler, Gail, Johnny, R. O., and Betty at ease after a drill.

"The music goes round and round and it comes out here" really symbolizes our CHS band; for early and late we go up and down, round and round. Toot, toot! Beat, beat! Twirl, twirl! Off we go! One, two, three, four, five, six. Band Halt! One, two. Confused??? So were we until about November when the light dawned and the music began to sound (to us, at least) superb. Our new band master, Mr. Tyler, put us through all the courses that he learned during his army stint, but it really paid dividends. Even the hig stepping majorettes and their new uniforms showed a flair for military tactics. As the year progressed and we presented varied programs for the public, all of us agreed that our band had never looked nor sounded better.

During the year we took part in football games, band day at Clemson and Christmas parades.

Our Majorettes: Brenda Bumgarner, Gail Grant, head Majorette, Jane Ellen Davis, Marguerite Cassels, Peggy Engle, and Drum Major Johnny Huskins.



DRUM MAJOR: Rob Crowder.

Through the activities of the Girl's Block "C" Club, the girls athletics at Chester High School moved from the sidelines to the center ring. In addition to participation in games, the girls sold programs, season tickets, pencils and on all occasions boosted athletic morale.

During the school year some of our members are entered into several contests which are designed to develop greater interest in agriculture. These contests include dairy cattle judging, livestock judging, land judging, and parliamentary procedure contests.

We also elect a sweetheart to represent us in the Federation F.F.A. Sweetheart contest. This year our sweetheart is Sylvia McCarley.

Our members attend camp each year at a new camp which is located at Cherry Grove Beach. We also send two representatives to the State Convention which is held at Clemson.

Our motto is "Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to serve."

Illness and injury kept the Red Cyclones from duplicating past seasons records, and from gaining a top place in the newly formed league. Under the leadership of coach R. E. Wilson the Cyclones played to a 4 win, 4 loss, 2 tie season.

A number of firsts were recorded this year. The largest crowd ever to see a Cyclone game, since Wilson has been at Chester, turned out to see the Chester-Lancaster contest in spite of a driving rain. Lancaster defeated Chester for the first time in a number of years; Chester 7 - Lancaster 13. Also the shortest game in Wilson's record was played—the one hour game with Newberry in which Chester sloshed to a 14 to 0 win on a field covered with mud.

In our wins Chester defeated Laurens in the opener 26-12, won over Clinton 25 to 0, scored a 26 to 0 win over Winnsboro, and in a game that had to be put off to a later date, Chester won over Newberry, 14 - 0.

In the two tie games, Chester tied a powerful Camden team 6 - 6. In the other tie, a weak Union team held Chester to a 19 to 19 score.

Flu took its toll of other opponents. The game with Carlisle Military Academy was cancelled.

The loss to Lancaster 7 to 13, to a powerful Greenwood team 0 to 14, to York 0 to 13, and to Gaffney 0 to 21, put the black marks on our record.

Looking at the scorebook, the season may not seem too successful, but to the boys who played it was exceedingly worthwhile. The character, sportsmanship, and leadership they developed outshines any record in any scorebook. Also considering our casualties and illness, we think the '57 Red Cyclones had a good season, and we are proud of them.

The 1957 runner-ups for the District Championship, Chester High's Cyclonettes, have started off their 1958 season with a bang. They remain undefeated after meeting five opponents.

Only three of last year's first stringers, Martha Woods, Becky Odom, and Barbara Hall are back, the Cyclonettes having lost three of last year's starters by way of graduation.

However, a team that from year to year is regular at practice, attentive at games—even though on the bench—and enthusiastic in any point of view is always growing and learning baketball. The "bench" has merely been waiting for a chance. The spirit of cooperation is so great that even the managers take their job very seriously and all hands join in the spirit—"All for one; one for all."

To date the boys basketball team has had rough going. Losing several players from last year's team, the boys have had a tough time getting reorganized and working smoothly. Thus far tilts with Gaffney, Lewisville, Winthrop Training School, Winnsboro, have resulted in losses for our team. We hope, however, to be on the winning side when their returning games are played. Surely as the season advances, our team will profit from further experience and will win their share of victories.

Best of wishes
Coach.

TENNIS

BOYS' TEAM

Bill Gaston, Jimmy Mann, Tommy Mann.

For the second consecutive year, both Chester High School's girls' and boys' tennis teams showed up well in the season's play. Even though no regular matches were scheduled last spring, both teams journeyed to the state tennis tournament held in Columbia and showed up well against more experienced players.

The girls' team, composed of two juniors and two sophomores, rated well as all four girls attained the quarter finals. Martha Ann McCleave and Sims Wylie reached the quarter finals in doubles. Martha Woods and Sandy Wylie went ahead and ended as runner-up in doubles in the state finals.

The boys, whose team was made up this year of one senior, one junior, and two freshmen, also stirred up a lot of trouble. Tommy and Jimmy Mann won their first singles matches. Billy Heath drew a bye in the first round, and lost in the second round. Bill Gaston lost his first match. Tommy and Bill lost in their first doubles match and Jimmy and Billy went to the quarter finals.

Returning this year are the same four girls, while the boys team will be the same with the exception of the loss of Billy Heath by graduation.

They won nine matches while losing only three. The team made its annual appearance in the state championship contest. The Chester team finished second, losing to a much stronger Florence team. They won over Chester by only fifteen points. All of Chester's players rated among the top fifteen in individual scores with Norman Flynn finishing second in the tournament. There was a field of 182 players.

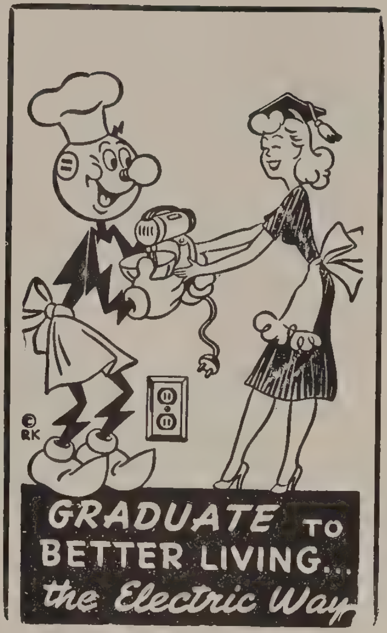
Growing Up

With Opportunity



While you've been growing up and getting educated, opportunity has been growing, too. All around you, industry and business have multiplied. Electrification has increased farm yield, while cutting down on labor and risk.

When you were freshmen, the Duke Power Company was beginning new plants to supply your power needs after graduation. Now ample, low-priced power increases your job opportunity, and Piedmont resources are ready for your energy and ideas. Good luck to you as you find your place in the Piedmont Carolinas.

ALMA MATER

All hail, dear Chester,
we sing of thy fame,
Remembering thy precepts
while praising thy name.
As time bears us onward
o'er life's open sea,
We shall be loyal,
dear Chester, to thee.

Our spirits still true
will answer thy call,
A debt to thy teachings
we owe, 'tis our all,
O'er all our foes
victorious we'll be,
And we'll love Chester,
all hail to thee.
